Some of Waihue crew headed down to the gardens on Friday to soak up all the Matariki magic! They wandered through the stalls, there was something for everyone! The music had everyone tapping their toes, and the vibe was full of warmth and celebration. They chatted with loads of friendly faces, felt the spirit of the season. It was such a beautiful way to come together, connect, and celebrate Matariki under the stars. 🌟

Ollie has a beautiful new furry companion named Karma, and she's already made herself right at home at Churchill. From the moment she arrived, Karma has brought so much joy and cuddly energy into the home. She's not just taken over Ollie's room — she's captured the hearts of everyone in the Churchill whānau. With her purrs, playfulness, and love of attention, Karma is soaking up all the aroha and giving it right back. She's truly become part of the family.

Ray-Elvis had a lovely trip up north to Kaitia over the Matariki weekend, where he spent some special time reconnecting with whānau. It was a well-deserved break, and although it was a short getaway, Ray really enjoyed the change of scenery and the chance to relax and soak up some good company and northern vibes.

Dominic has been the Sharks' number one fan and waterboy (on and off) for over 15 years. Rain, hail, or shine, Dom's on the sidelines, cheering louder than anyone and backing his boys all the way. He's seen the highs, the lows, and everything in between, and he's always there to help celebrate every try, tackle, and team triumph. Being part of the Sharks crew isn't just about rugby for Dom, it's about mateship, purpose, and feeling like he belongs to something special.
